ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

Ram Lal Vriddhashram Evam Gaushala

Ram Lal Vriddhashram Evam Gaushala is a social welfare institution with a centre located in Greater Noida, Uttar Pradesh. It combines an elderly care home (vriddhashram) with a gaushala (cow shelter), operating as a centre for elderly care, animal welfare, and community service.

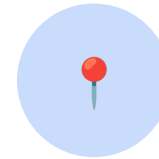

Elderly Care Home

Provides shelter, daily care, and support to elderly residents living at the facility.

Gaushala (Animal Shelter)

Houses and cares for cows kept at the facility, alongside other animals on the premises.

Location

Located near Amity Road, Knowledge Park-2, Greater Noida, Uttar Pradesh.

A Hands-On Social Service Experience

As part of the B.Tech curriculum, this four-week internship provided an opportunity to step outside the classroom and engage directly in social-service work — supporting elderly residents and helping care for cows at a community welfare institution in Greater Noida. The experience centered on responsibility, teamwork, empathy, and social awareness, rather than any technical or software-development activity.

This internship focused on three connected areas of engagement:

Elderly Care

Cow Care

Personal Growth

OBJECTIVES

Core Internship Objectives

Support Elderly Residents

Assist elderly residents with daily activities and routine tasks.

Cow Care & Feeding

Participate responsibly in the daily feeding and general care of cows.

Community Service

Contribute to the day-to-day functioning of a community welfare institution.

Teamwork & Collaboration

Work alongside staff and fellow volunteers to share daily responsibilities.

Empathy & Compassion

Build empathy through direct, personal interaction with elderly residents.

Social Awareness

Develop a deeper understanding of social responsibility and community needs.

Assisting Elderly Residents

Direct Assistance

Remained available to assist elderly residents of the ashram whenever required.

Daily Routine Support

Helped residents with day-to-day routine activities as part of the daily schedule.

Respectful Interaction

Focused on patient, respectful communication in every interaction with residents.

Patience • Empathy
Respect • Responsibility

Key learning: respectful communication is essential in an elderly-care setting — assistance should be provided with patience, dignity, and awareness of individual needs.

Caring for the Gaushala's Cows

A dedicated part of the internship, spread across four weeks of hands-on daily involvement

Daily Cow Feeding & Care

Feeding & General Care

Helped prepare and distribute fodder and ensured the cows had access to water each day.

Cleanliness & Upkeep

Supported the general upkeep and cleanliness of the area where the cows were kept.

Consistency & Routine

Contributed to the same daily routine required to care for a large number of animals.

My role was limited to feeding and general care support — no veterinary or medical procedures were performed.

Four-Week Internship Journey — June 2026

1 WEEK

Orientation & Settling In

Introduced to the organization, its residents, and its daily cow-care routine.

2 WEEK

Elderly Care Focus

Engaged in daily assistance and routine-task support for the ashram's residents.

3 WEEK

Cow Care Focus

Participated in feeding, cleaning, and general care of the cows at the gaushala.

4 WEEK

Reflection & Conclusion

Continued combined elderly and cow-care duties, reflecting on the experience.

Skills and Personal Development

✓ Empathy & Compassion

✓ Responsibility

✓ Communication

✓ Discipline

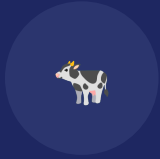

✓ Patience

✓ Teamwork

✓ Time Management

These personal qualities were built through daily, hands-on engagement with elderly residents and cows — beyond anything a classroom setting alone could offer.

Key Learning Outcomes

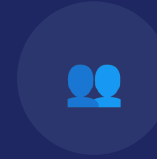

Cow-Care Experience

Direct, hands-on exposure to the daily feeding and general care of cows at a gaushala.

Social Awareness

A stronger understanding of social responsibility, built through service to elderly residents.

Community-Service Experience

Practical experience contributing to the daily functioning of a community welfare institution.

Overall, the internship strengthened both personal values and a sense of social responsibility.

Challenges and Learning Experience

A Different Kind of Environment

Adjusting to a hands-on, non-technical service setting, quite different from regular academic coursework.

Consistency of Daily Care

Maintaining patience and consistency in the daily feeding and care of the cows required regular attention.

Balancing Responsibilities

Managing time between elderly-assistance duties and cow-care activities within the same day.

Building Confidence & Comfort

Growing more comfortable and confident while interacting closely with elderly residents.

OVERALL EXPERIENCE

A Meaningful Month of Growth

The four-week internship was a meaningful and enriching experience. It gave me an opportunity to work in an environment centred on care, welfare, and community participation — different from my regular B.Tech coursework and a valuable practical addition to my personal development.

Confidence

Responsibility

Patience

Communication

Teamwork

Social Awareness

“Overall, the internship improved my confidence and helped me appreciate the value of contributing positively through practical service — reinforcing that education develops not only academic knowledge but also personal values and transferable skills.”
